Buchu, as prepared by Druggists generally, is of a dark color. It is a plant that emits its fragrance, the action of a flame destroys this (its active principle), leaving a dark and glutinous decoction.— it is the color of ingredients. The Buchu in my preparation predominates the smallest quantity of the other ingredients are added, to prevent fermentation; upon inspection, it will be found not to be a tinctive, as made in Pharmacopæa, nor is it a syrup—and therefore can be used in cases where fever or inflammation exists. In this you have the knowledge of the ingredients and the mode of preparation. Hoping that you will favor it with a trial, and hat upon inspection it will meet with your appro-
